

A BATTLE FOR THE SOUL

Hidden Voices from India's Past

How easy is it to reject all you're taught to believe in?

A Battle for the Soul presents narrative snapshots of the lives of young Indian men and women, drawn from recently uncovered autobiography and written testimony.

Set against the turbulent times of colonial rule in the sub-continent, stories of personal dilemmas of faith, family conflict and uncertain futures emerge in this rehearsed reading with projections.

Bringing together theatre artist Annie George and recent research at the University of Edinburgh, A Battle for the Soul breathes life into these previously hidden voices.

The reading will be followed by a discussion exploring some of the issues raised along with refreshments.

Thursday 26 May 2016
8.00pm

Storytelling Court, Storytelling Centre
43 - 45 High Street, Edinburgh, EH1 1SR

www.tracscotland.org/scottish-storytelling-centre
Tickets £5 (Concessions £4). Box Office: 0131 556 9579

For more information on the research project, see <http://www.ctla.llc.ed.ac.uk/>

THE UNIVERSITY of EDINBURGH

