

Self-Transformations: Writing Faith Journeys in Verse

Three Poetry Workshops

Scottish Poetry Library
5 Crichton's Close, Canongate, EH8 8DT

How can you talk about your change in faith? Was it perhaps difficult to put in words?

Write a poem describing your transformation in workshops led by three experienced poets in collaboration with Scottish Poetry Library:

3 November (5-7pm): Alan Spence
10 November (5-7pm): Georgi Gill
17 November (5-7pm): Sam Tongue

People of all faiths or none welcome, but everyone will have an interest or experience in conversion or spiritual awakening.

No poetry writing experience required, but you must be able to attend all three workshops.

Free event, limited to 15 participants.

When you register for these workshops you will be sent two questions to determine your eligibility and to design suitable workshops.

Once you've answered these short questions we will get back to you by 27 October 2016 to confirm your place.

Join us also for the Scottish Interfaith Week at the Storytelling Centre with poetry readings by four poets exploring faith and spirituality. Workshop participants welcome to contribute.

This free event, open to all, is organised by the Scottish Poetry Library and Dr. Hephzibah Israel, University of Edinburgh, bringing together the power of poetry and narrating stories of transformations of faith.
